

"The years teach much which the days never know." ... eventually revealing what life is all about.

Years teach much which the days never know

- amalgamation of days
- decade
- large range

broad view of events /

holistic view

- lessons
- experience
- discipline?
- consistency ?

- single day
- a single year
- small range

funnel-view
of events

- fueled by emotions; yet heavily controlled by mind

◦ fueled by emotions

Intro:

Abraham Lincoln's quote of cutting a tree down using an axe with a time limit of 4 hrs.

The mankind is severely drowned in the ocean of instant gratification rather than focusing on a larger picture. This in turn leads to poor choices and eventually terrible outcomes.

- Day to day action based on consideration of next few minutes rather than accounting for the whole day [in the smallest scale] ↳ moving up to decades?
  - Yearly planning of goals - academic, career oriented, or health based are based on and are carried out based on what we feel like [lack of commitment]
  - Failing at a task be an interview, academics, or personnel projects; breaks our will and pushes us into dark - sad, unmotivated and depressed.
↳ using statement made by "Thomas Edison"
"I have not failed 10,000 times. I have succeeded in proving that those 10,000 ways will not work"
- ↳ → Incandescent light bulb (filament of it)
- [Keep pushing ahead]

- Quote by Danish Philosopher, ~~Søren~~
S. Kierkegaard
G

"Life can ~~only~~ be understood backwards; but it must be lived forwards"
G

importance of positive outlook of life
even if it does not make sense;
suggesting religious people to have faith
on their god and persevere through the hardships.

Inversion:

Investing all your time to have that
"6 figure job", "that luxury car", "that house" is all last great, however, not living in the moment leads to regret secret of not spending time with loved ones.

- Not enjoying life and resting
- Not going on that "solo trip"
- Not having an absolute interesting day with your friends.

Regret piles up; destroying, eating you from within just as the termites makes a healthy tree hollow from within, just to be converted into dust in due course of time.
